SURPRISING CURE OF STOMACH TROUBLE

When you have trouble with your stomach or chronic constipation, don't imagine that your case is beyond help just because your doctor fails to give you relief. Mrs. G. Stengle, Plainfield, N. J., writes, "For over a month past I have been troubled with my stomach. Every thing I ate upset it terribly. One of Chamberlain's anti-vomiting booklets came to me. After reading a few of the letters from people who had been cured by Chamberlain's Tablets, I decided to try them and can now eat almost every thing that I want." For sale by all dealers.

Supreme Officers of S.O.E.

Entertained at Lethbridge

Lodge "F" of the Sons of England, Benefit Society, entertained a grand reception to the Supreme President and Supreme Secretary of the society at Lethbridge on Friday night, which consisted of the best array of edibles and eloquence ever produced in the prairie land.

After a regular meeting of the society, which was largely attended, the spreading of several tables with all the good things required for the entertainment of the members of the society and the Daughters and Maids of England "Queen of Alberta Lodge."

The guests of the evening included besides the supreme officers, the leading representatives of the city, amongst whom figured His Worship, Mayor Hardie, W. A. Buchanan, M.P., C. F. P. Conybeare, K.C., D.C.L., Dr. J. S. Stewart, M. L. A. and D. H. Elton.

The toast list was left in charge of Bro. D. H. Elton, whose ability as toastmaster added much to the success of the occasion.

His Worship the Mayor responded to the toast to His Majesty the King in a very fitting manner.

Bro. Elton introduced the honored heads of the Order and Bro. E. A. Miller, supreme president, delivered a pleasing and fitting reply, bearing upon the mission of the supreme officers to the West and the pleasure it afforded them to witness the great spirit of all with which every branch of the Order was striving to do out existence in a manner that would best benefit the society and mankind.

Bro. Miller referred to the great strides made by the society of the Sons of England since its birth about 35 or 40 years ago, when a body of five or six Englishmen were impressed with the idea of a fraternal brotherhood that might tend to link together men of English birth or English ancestry whose lot had been cast upon Canadian soil.

One of the promoters of that grand idea was the present Supreme Secretary, John W. Carter, who after some thirty-five years or more devoted almost solely to the interests of the society of which he was generally recognized the father, and having already passed the threshold of man's allotted time, was spared to appear before us in apparent vigor and prime of life.

No man in the city of Toronto or in the whole Dominion was more widely known or highly esteemed than was the Supreme Secretary of the Sons of England society. During his thirty-five years as Supreme President the society had grown from a small group of 6 to a membership of upwards of 40,000 and spread its influence throughout the major portion of the British Empire. The beneficiary department, which was instituted a number of years ago, possessed a most creditable record. From the widows and orphans fund there had been paid out since the creation of the fund upwards of $2,200,000 in funeral benefits or the relief of widows and orphans, while at the present time from this department alone there was being paid out monthly upwards of $4,000, and there was yet remaining in the bank to the credit of the department a substantial sum of over $40,000. Last year the membership of the Order increased by 5,028, which was double that of any previous year and greater than the growth of any other fraternal order in the Dominion of Canada.

Bro. Miller stated that one of the chief objects of their visitations was to witness the official efficiency in the workings of the lodges and conferring degrees, and he complimented Lodge Pride of Alberta on the very capable manner in which their ritualistic work was put on.

John W. Carter, the grand old man who has braved thirty-five years of devotion to the Sons of England society and who is loved and venerated by every member of the organization in Canada and the Empire, addressed the gathering in the capacity of Supreme Secretary. His remarks were forcible and argumentative, dealing chiefly with the high ideals of the society and the duties expected of every member of the great brotherhood for the uplifting of the British flag and the protection of British citizenship. He did not believe that a Britisher could be a true Canadian and not be loyal to the British flag and Constitution. As Canadians we were a nation within a nation and the greatest arm of the whole empire. As Englishmen we were duty bound to uphold good citizenship—to promote all British values, and the Sons of England Benefit Society meant more than any other institution for the upbuilding of a true Canadian citizenship. We have a magnificent institution, and by supporting and helping it we help every other institution which has for its object the benefit of mankind. "We are most democratic," he declared. "Our aim should be to work for some other's good. Our motto should be to love the brotherhood, for God and honor the king. Every man was created for some good purpose and unless that purpose is carried into effect life is simply wasted. He had devoted nearly two score years to the interests of the Sons of England Society and although at present up to 70 years of age he felt that he was to be spared for yet many more years' consecration to the lobby of his life. The principles of our beloved order formed an ideal and a standard as high as it was possible for man to attain. In our handling together and protecting those principles we were carrying out a great purpose, one that would redound to the protection and promotion of our own good citizenship and to the honor of our flag and country."

Bro. F. T. Robbins, M.P., D.D., responded to the toast of "The Grand Lodge of Alberta" in a pleasing manner. C. F. P. Conybeare, K.C., D.C.L., pledged the toast of "Our Empire." His address was one of eloquence, glowing with tribute to the British Empire and the great land of our adoption. He referred to the agitation being on for the teaching of languages other than the English in Canadian schools. Canada had a splendid system of schools in fact as well as in the ideal. He felt that we should endeavor to Canadianize the foreign immigrants and to accomplish such only the English language should be instilled by our schools.

W. A. Buchanan, M.P., replied to "The Dominion of Canada," while Dr. J. S. Stewart, M.P., represented "The Province of Alberta." Both speakers delivered stirring addresses.

Mayor Hardie responded to "Lethbridge, Our Home." He offered the freedom of the city of Lethbridge to the distinguished heads of the Sons of England Society, and hoped that their visit to the "Pride of Alberta" would afford them greatest pleasure.

W. C. Ives, as president of the Board of Trade, was co-resident to "The City." He referred briefly to the grand institution over which the distinguished visitors were the honored heads. He felt that in the City of Lethbridge there was a feeling of loyalty to our grand old Union Jack, and thus to our sovereign king. On Imperial or civic holidays it was noticeable that ninety per cent of the flag poles of the city were naked of the flag that braved the battle and the breeze, and felt that failure in this means of expression of loyalty was a fact to be regretted. As a nation in an empire we should endeavor to uphold the flag, the emblem of our country's greatness. He welcomed the visitors to the city and on behalf of the Board of Trade desired to assist in any way in showing them around the city.

Bro. O. E. Lydal, V.P., moved the toast to "The Daughters and Maids of England."

An original song entitled "S. O. E." was rendered by Dr. H. Elton. Songs were also rendered by Bros. Westley, Kenley, Stender, Gibson, and Weaver.

On Saturday, under the auspices of the Board of Trade, the visitors were shown around the city and outstayed around the country.

They returned north to Edmonton and retraced their path back to Macleod, where on Wednesday night they were joyfully received by a joint assemblage of members of Cowley, Fischer Creek, and Macleod lodges.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

After receiving them he was himself taken sick and says that our small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was worth more to him than the cost of his entire stock of these medicines. The picnic and sports will be held at Crows' Nest and the special excursion train leaving Macleod will arrive at Hillcrest at 10.10, and at Blairmore 10.35 a.m. Returning the train will leave Crows' Nest at 6.35 p.m. Special return fares Hillcrest return, adults, 60 cents, children 30 cents; Frank and Blairmore return, adults 50 cents, children 25 cents. All kinds of games, including baseball, football and tug-of-war, will be held, and those who attend are assured of a right good time.

Another Marathon Race
Saturday afternoon's marathon was watched with considerable interest and the "hobos" availed of the opportunity to be recognized as honored spectators. One of the competitors—an unseemly, stunted grown, gin checked son of the Emerald Isle—undertook a wager to outpace a printer, haggard looking, bearded, tall and lanky. With them a member of the ladies department of a leading mercantile establishment, a thirl reliever from the Cosmopolitan hotel and the pioneer light of Blairmore lined up, each in the order of their importance in life.

At the sound of the starting gong the professor of law would lag behind, but some "spirit" seemed to prompt his inner man that he was as well equipped as a marathoner as any of his side-kickers and madly held the lead. The ladies clerk was also struck with a sense of imagining himself a racer of repute. He hung onto the coast of his lawyer friend, and when the latter laid down to take a "swig," or other opportunity would offer he would pace towards the goal. At the start the Emerald Islander and the printer paced off side by side, but ere the finish the printer quit his laurels and acknowledged the Englishman victor over all save the druggist. The Englishmen covered the distance of four miles in exactly 23 minutes, and is thus entitled to compete for the world's championship.

Sydney Miners
Out on Strike
Sydney, N. S., July 8.—Fifteen hundred miners at Sydney mines went out on strike this afternoon. The cause of the strike is that no horses are supplied in some of the mines and practically all of the work of hauling cars, shovelling and filling falls on the miners. Three of the collieries are worked by the provincial workmen's association which took the initiative in the matter. Manager T. L. Brown assured the men that the matter would be laid before the directors today. The men will resume work pending decision of the directors.

Oddfellows Institute at Cayley
A lodge of Oddfellows was instituted at Cayley on Wednesday night, July 9th. R. Hill Fairley, grand master of the Grand Lodge of Alberta, and other grand lodge officials took part in the ceremony. The degree team of High River lodge conferred the various degrees.

Amid the sky hawks drifted by, And swallows darted, rising, falling: The cricket's cry rang shrill and high, And all kept calling, calling.

Preserving Fence Posts From Decay

Wood-rot, in all its forms, is due to the action of fungi working under suitable air and moisture conditions. In fence posts these conditions are most favorable at or near the surface of the ground and hence it is that there decay first starts there. Wood-rot like the cedar and tamarack, are more resistant to fungus attack and may last, as fence posts, from eight to ten years. Unfortunately however, the supply of these woods has grown very scarce and the farmer is faced with the alternative of importing durable material at a high price or of applying preservatives to these common non-durable woods. As the latter alternative is not only cheaper, but also much more effective, it is of considerable economic interest to the farmer to know how these wood-preservatives are applied.

Cresote, a dead oil of coal tar, is perhaps the best preservative for this purpose, as it does not dissolve out of the treated wood, when in contact with moist earth. It is used in the proportion of fifteen cents per gallon.

There are two methods of applying the cresote but before either method can be applied it is necessary to have the posts well seasoned if the best results are desired. The first method is best accomplished by peeling the bark from the posts and then slacking them in the open air for several months, so the amount of water in the wood may be reduced to the smallest per cent.

The brush method consists in applying the cresote like a coat of paint to the lower portion of the post, up to a point six inches above the ground line, the cresote being first heated to one hundred and eighty degrees Fahrenheit. Two or more coats may be applied thus, and application for the cresote to soak into the wood.

What is known as the Open Tank Method, while more expensive, secures deeper penetration and gives better results especially when the posts are split or checked.

The cresote is heated to boiling point in a metal tank and if possible, a steam boiler, a simple and effective apparatus can be made by boring two holes, about two feet apart, in the tank and one of these holes a water-tight plug and screwing into these holes two pieces of iron piping, one foot long, which are connected by a shorter vertical pipe with two elbow-joints, thus forming a complete steam circuit resembling the handle of a mug.

The barrel is then filled with enough steam to cover the posts and lower pipe holes and a fire is kindled under the lower horizontal pipe which heats the cresote in the pipes and creates a circulation which continues until all the cresote within the barrel is at boiling-point. The posts are then placed in this boiling liquid for about five hours after which they are removed and cooled. The cresote in the barrel of course, or else the fire is put out and they are allowed to remain in the tank for several hours, becoming thoroughly cooled.

In this process the preliminary heating of the cresote is not necessary, as out of each wood-pore, and when the posts are allowed to cool in the cresote, a partial vacuum is then created in each pore which draws the cresote into every fibre. Popular posts, which are heated for four or five years, after the above treatment will last twenty years and the same applies to all better treated posts in Canada. All that is essential is thorough seasoning before treatment. Further information can be obtained on application to the Forestry Branch, Ottawa.

At the Yarmouth Y.M.C.A. Boy's Camp, held at Tucker Falls in August, I found MINARD'S Ointment to be beneficial for sun burn, an immediate relief for colic and toothache.

ALFRED PRIGGS, General Secretary.

An Expensive Item

The manager of a certain musical hall prided himself on his brilliant oratorical powers, and every Saturday night he announced the stars for the ensuing week.

One evening, after giving in glowing terms the smaller luminaries, he finished thus:

And last, but not least, we have secured at enormous expense, Spring Bros., the world's acrobats, the real champions, and the talk of the stage, for six nights only.

After pausing for breath, he exclaimed: Yes, and what's more, ladies and gentlemen, on Monday week we have a troupe company that can knock 'em into a cocked hat.

Chemists have some very queer applications for prescriptions. An old veteran slipped into a shop one day and said to the druggist:

I want some medicine.

What kind of medicine?

Oh, I don't know. What do you recommend?

Where does the seat of your difficulty seem to be?

In my wooden leg, mister. It's getting to be worn-out.

Now, Jeannette, said the Sunday school teacher to a pupil, can you tell me why God gave Moses the rod?

Yes, ma'am, replied Jeannette, he could chastise the children of Israel if they didn't get their lessons.

An Englishman who had been for a tour round the world was much annoyed with a report which he returned which appeared in a local paper. This report ended:

His numerous friends are surprised that he is unchanged.

He did not know that the offender was the composer of a new getting-up-the-report, had omitted a letter "o" thus substituting the word unchanged, which the reporter had written.

Plenty of It

But do you think your daughter would succeed on the stage? Has she enough of the artistic temperament?

Oh, yes, plenty of it. When she had to wipe the dishes on the maid's dress, and wash the maid's face in a basin, and smashed the maid's dish, we had in the house.

Nice

Willie—Sure. I can beat him every time.

Mittler's Worm Powders act mildly and without injury to the child, and there can be no doubt of their deadly effect upon worms. They have been in successful use for a long time and are recognized as a leading preparation for the purpose. They have proved their power in the most high cases and have given relief to thousands of children, who, but for the good offices of this superior compound would have continued weak and feeble.

I seem to remember that lady, who is she?

That's my, typical last year.

She's charming. Why did she leave you?

One day I proposed marriage to her, and what do you think she said?—She said that I said down her name and brought it, nicely typewritten, for me to sign.

ROSY CHEEKS STRONG NERVES

Should be the Birthright of Every Woman and Growing Girl.

Many women and growing girls who should have bright eyes, rosy cheeks, strong nerves and elastic step, and a good appetite, are seen in the street, pale, thin, and nervous.

Sluggish, the cheeks become pale, the steps stiff, and the nerves become sensitive. They may have inherited a tendency to ill-health, or they may have overworked, over-eaten, or worried until the strength of the body was not equal to the demands made upon it.

To guard against a complete breakdown in health the blood must be kept pure and rich. No other medicine can do this so well as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for they act both on the blood and nerves, restore the appetite and keep every organ toned. All women cannot rest when they are ill, but this strengthening medicine is within every woman's reach, and will keep them in the enjoyment of good health.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is well illustrated by the case of Mrs. David Claiborne, of Boston, who writes:

"Some years ago I suffered greatly from impoverished blood. I was very pale and thin, and had no strength. I took a lot of doctor's medicine without getting any benefit, and at last, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which I had heard highly recommended, it was not long before I began to feel better, and after taking the Pills for perhaps a couple of months my health was fully restored, and although some years have passed, my continued strong and healthy, and I think I owe it entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Sometimes later my daughter, then about twelve years of age, had been working very hard at school and her health gave way. She was weak and listless and her hands and face were badly swollen, and a strange drooping was setting in. However, we started to give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and she was soon well again. I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any suffering as we did, knowing the benefit it has so often received from them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Fifty-five whales, yielding $630,000 were killed in the North Pacific. But it is represented that if whales are exterminated the millions of barrels of oil that now stay close to the shores to escape the predatory big fish will venture into deep water, the salmon which live on them, will follow, and the salmon industry will be menaced, if not ruined.

This is as bad a complication as any foreseen by manufacturing interests from tariff reduction and obviously points to the need of prohibitive tariff of some kind on whaling for the protection of salmon fishing.

A motion picture show arranged under the supervision of the directors of the Children's Aid and Protective Society of Vienna took place in that city recently. It was the cause of a large sum of money and furnished a novel feature. At the close of the film programme the spectators were requested to remain seated so that a film might be shown with portraits of many persons known to those present. It was a picture of the patrons arriving at the theatre, taking their places and waiting for the first number. The picture had been prepared in two hours, and was the feature of the occasion.

Sixty-year-old Dick was preparing, much against his own sweet will, to go calling with his mother. It was the first time that Dick had been allowed to get himself ready alone, and to come with boyish disgust at being obliged to go visiting, he felt the importance of the situation. After being put on his hat and coat he suddenly remembered something, called downstairs: Mother, shall I wash my hands or wear gloves?

Jumping Fish

Jumping as a means of locomotion is shared by a variety of animals of widely different classes. Kangaroos and jerboas among the mammals, grasshoppers and rooks among the birds, as well as such familiar forms as crabs, cockles, crickets and bees, all illustrate this phenomenon to leap, mostly as a means of getting quickly over the ground, and even lions and tigers, which never spring in ordinary circumstances, readily adopt this method of attacking their victims.

A considerable number of fishes are remarkable for their leaping powers, and several of these performers are on that account specially favored by anglers, since by jumping clear of the water, in some cases many times in succession, they tax the fisherman's skill more severely than fishes less active, and thereby give added zest to their capture.

Members of the salmon family are universally famous for their high jumps. The sea trout, which gladden Devon waters under the season's frost, is a favorite with anglers, and a fish of a pound weight will more than jump several times its own length out of the water when hooked before coming to the net. Unless the fisherman responds promptly by lowering the top of his rod, the fragile gut is likely to break, and as it is part of every sportsman's creed to appreciate his catch in proportion to the difficulties it presents, the sea trout stands high in the angler's estimation.

At their best salmon can jump at least ten feet above the surface, a feat achieved by slapping the water with the powerful tail and flexing the body until the head is tall all but motionless.

The grandest of all these leapers is the tarpon, otherwise "silver king," or "grand scallie," a monster herring which may measure six or seven feet long, and weigh 200 pounds.

A lawyer in court occupied the whole day with a speech which was anything but interesting to his auditors.

Some one—who had left the court room and returned again after an interval of some hours, finding the same language going on—said to the opposing lawyer: Is it not—making up a great deal of time?

Time, was the answer; he has long since exhausted time, and is now on charity.

Small Charlotte, not yet four years old, was gifted with so vivid an imagination that her mother began to be troubled by her fairy tales, and felt it time to talk seriously to her about the beauties of truthfulness.

Not sure of this impression she had made, she closed with the warning that God could not love a liar, and would not want her in heaven.

Charlotte considered a moment and then said:

Well, I've been to Chicago once and to the theatre twice, and I don't think I can expect to go everywhere.

A lawyer was driving with an English visitor on a bitter cold day in December through the wilds of Connaught. The guest, who was a sportsman on the way, and the native, in a burst of confidence, pointed out a shebeen where the best pubmen in Connaught might be obtained. The Englishman only too glad to get an opportunity of warning himself off, refrained from making which offer was readily accepted.

"Yes, yer honor, replied Pat. He raised his glass, and the tourist, who had been waiting for a long time, and the native, in a burst of confidence, pointed out a shebeen where the best pubmen in Connaught might be obtained. The Englishman only too glad to get an opportunity of warning himself off, refrained from making which offer was readily accepted.

The physician was giving good advice to the layman.

"Don't let the little things pass unobserved," said the doctor. "It's these little things that often turn out to be serious if allowed to run on without attention. Even if you have a simple ailment, keep your eye on it. But how can I, doctor? cried the patient. I have a ball on the back of my neck."

First Coster (outside picture dealer's window)—Who was this "ero Nero, bill? Want'n he the chap that was always making trouble for me?

Second Coster—No; that was Zero. Another bloke altogether.

You have never suffered from financial reverses? No, replied Mr. Dustin Blax. Finance is like dancing. When the music turns around and goes the other way you must reverse with it.

Customer—I want a novel good for summer reading.

Book Clerk—Here's just the thing. A detective story that will make your blood run cold.

Playwright—I want a hat—size 8.

Playwright—Sir, I know what I want; my comedy was a success last night.

OUR NEW PAPER MONEY.

It Will Be the Safest and Simplest System in the World.

When the new bill that Uncle Sam is now creating appears, our citizens will witness the greatest revolution that has ever been made in the size and appearance of paper money in the United States. Each one of the 2,000,000,000 notes of that kind now in circulation will be supplemented by a quarter-sized smaller bill that now used if the comment occasioned by the establishment of parcel post, the rural free delivery and every other innovation Uncle Sam has made in the last twenty years could be rolled into one it would not bring forth a tenth part of the popular interest which will be manifested when the people realize that each and every piece of paper money is to be changed. That day will come when the dollar bill, which now sells for a $10, a $10 to a $20, a $20 to a $50 bill, or, in fact, misrepresents any denomination. The value of the new bill will be apparent on sight. Any note with Washington's portrait on it will be $1; Jefferson's, $2; Lincoln's, $5; Grover Cleveland's, $10; Alexander Hamilton's, $20; Andrew Jackson's, $50; Franklin's, $100; John Marshall's, $500, and so on. It would then be utterly impossible for a forger to counterfeit a one dollar bill to a ten dollar bill, as is so frequently done, because within a few months after the system has been introduced, every man, woman and child will have learned that George Washington's picture stands for $1 and not $10. We will then have the safest and simplest system of national currency in the world.—Leslie's.

They May, Perhaps, in the Near Future Be Given in the Home.

A prediction may safely be made that in the near future provision will be made for moving pictures in the home. When a man decides to build a house to cost, say, $25,000 or more, the architect will plan the picture room, in which the family and their guests can enjoy a select program of latest productions. It may be in connection with a dancing room, or it can be accomplished in much less expensive way. A projecting machine suitable for the home will not be very costly, and the films will doubtless be delivered each week by companies organized for that special purpose. Travelers returning from abroad will find pictures of cities and scenes they have visited, and wonder how they can get to friends and relatives incidents of the places they have visited.

Another new industry which will soon come into existence is all the larger cities will be film photography. Children's birthdays, garden parties, weddings and other family occasions later days of years recall pleasant memories will thus be perpetuated by the film photographer. He will eventually be making a number of pictures of the most acceptable wedding pictures in days to come from parents' and friends' and their children will find amusement—Popular Mechanics.

THE HOT WATER BAG.

How to Mend Holes in This Very Useful Article.

It is best not to entirely fill a rubber bag with water. When partly full, put it on something and press the top down until the water rises in the neck, then screw on the top. This drives out the air and keeps the water hot longer. A hot water bag will last much longer if at first it is well greased inside with olive oil or vaseline.

To mend a rubber bag first inflate with air and then fasten the cork so it will not leak. Now take a rubber band, melt it over a flame and apply while plastic to the torn place. A small hole may be covered in this manner. If you have a small piece of thin sheet rubber heat this also and paste over the gum while it is still hot. Adhesive plaster will also mend it for mending purposes. If you have a small piece of thin sheet rubber heat this also and paste over the gum while it is still hot. Adhesive plaster will also mend it for mending purposes.

To mend rubber goods which are not subject to extreme heat melt gum in a bowl in chloroform. Apply one piece and when that hardens place a second and then a third layer, allowing each to dry thoroughly before applying the other. This makes a thin patch which is durable.

Do not throw the worn-out hot water bag away, but cut it in round or oval pieces and use as mats to put under your feet.

In the absence of a hot water bottle or bag a common flannel bag, made in convenient size, with a drawstring will serve in ordinary ailments such as toothache, earache and other minor pains. Fill with hot sand or salt. It is safer than a cheap rubber bottle, just as efficacious and much handier to use. Keep a half dozen on hand.

A hot plate wrapped in paper and a few towels will retain heat until the proper articles can be secured. Old magazines heated in the oven make a good substitute for a hot water bottle. They hold the heat nearly as long and can be used under the back, where a hot water bottle would not lie well.

STREET SUITS.

Whims and Freshnesses Unwritten For Day Dress.

There seems to be an unwritten law in dressmaking that no matter what eccentric and freakish effect may be the whim of fashion, it shall be expressed solely in costumes to be worn by day. The only unusual or freakish note in the walking skirt illustrated is to be found in the combination checked skirt with plain coat. This combination is durable.

GOOD HORSE SENSE.

The horse is man's universal motor, without which he could not have attained to his present degree of civilization—could not have emerged from savagery—yet he is so familiar that he is not appreciated until he is lost. No other animal is so important to human welfare, and his improvement by the use of good sense should be the care of every farmer as a mere matter of economy—Eos and Agassiz.

IS IT "LAZY MAN'S WAY?"

Use of Commercial Fertilizers Discussed by Far and Afield.

Mr. Fullerton, who, with his wife, is the "head and front" of the Long Island experiment farms, discourses as follows on the use, or rather abuse, of commercial fertilizers. In answer to the question, "Are you ever going to use fertilizer, Mr. Fullerton?" he said: "I have some very good reasons for not doing so. I have planted that rye on about ten tons to the acre of manure again, and I am going to turn under the manure, and each and every acre on every square foot I can get planted."

"Then I shall use lime for a sweetener, for we now can almost live on a little lime to work. Next summer when I am putting in a second and third crop on the same ground I shall probably use blood and bone, and I shall not use any more commercial fertilizers. I think commercial fertilizers are bulky for old, worn-out land, but it would be like carrying coals to Newcastle to put them on virgin soil."

"The craze for chemical fertilizers has gone too far. There are places where they have put so many tons of it on one acre that it is one too many. It will be better that they have chemical laboratories, not farms. All chemical fertilizers are very expensive. We are a poor country, and we will have weeds, so will have cultivation. Weeds are the farmer's best friends. They force him to cultivate, and lack of cultivation is the crime of modern farming. If they'll pile some old manure on that ground now and so liberate through decomposition the various component parts of the chemical fertilizers they will have farms again."

SMOKING OUT THE BUGS.

Fumigation a Good Way of Getting Rid of Household Pests.

Fumigation is a means of reaching germs and insects in the air of a room, and is the best way of getting rid of the woodwork, says the American Cultivator. The house or room should be tightly closed and all fire extinguished during fumigation.

A simple method is to burn the sulphur candles, sold at drug stores, in a metal container. The fumes of brimstone may also be produced by burning in a metal basin (such as an old tin) a number of red-hot iron nails, which will be melted.

Sulphur may be mixed with a little alcohol or kerosene oil and burned, or may be sprinkled upon live coals placed in a chafin dish. The house or room should be kept closed for several hours and then opened as thoroughly as possible to allow the wind to drive out any remaining trace of poisonous gas.

In fumigating by burning substances it is important not to set fire to the building. Remember also that in most cases the substances which are used are poisonous to human life and to stock. Carelessness in their use or in leaving them about where children or dogs can get at them may have dire results.

How to Preserve Eggs. Dip fresh eggs, one at a time, in hot melted paraffin, enough to cover the egg. Take out immediately with wire tongs made for that purpose of baling wire, let paraffin harden and dip quickly again, reversing the wire. Let cool. Wrap each egg separately in waxed or paraffin paper. Wrap carefully, so as not to scratch or break the coating. Pack cold in the fruit cans and seal with paraffin, which excludes the air. Eggs so canned airtight will keep several months, the paraffin having closed the pores in the shell. Keep in a cool place and label can. "Handle with care."—Farm and Fireside.

FATAL MATHEMATICS.

See how the fatal math combine. To spoil a tale of "might have been." They met when he was in thirty-four And she was only seventeen.

For years in absence they adore Each other, just as lovers do. To grow when he is thirty-four And she, alas, is twenty-two!

When next their mutual gaze they fix The waiting time was nearly six. For he was going thirty-six And she admitted twenty-four.

They parted then (as I'm alive, It was a pity) and he went to sea. Until he totaled forty-five And she had reached thirty-three.

Their fates will never now intertwine. Their courtship's course is nearly done. For she's a girl of sixty-nine And he's a swain of eighty-one.

"Because they make their clients short."—Pittsburgh Press.

Puzzled Him.

While going along a country road the driver of an automobile saw ahead of him an old man walking by the roadside, also a dog. The dog was not content to remain on the side, but kept trotting the road and was caught by the car and instantly killed.

The driver turned the car as quickly as possible and went back to see what damage had been done and found the farmer gazing sorrowfully at the remains of the dog. The driver took out his pocketbook and handed the man $10, asking if that would pay for the dog. He said it would, so the other got in the car and went away. The old man watched the car till it was lost to sight, then, taking off his hat to scratch his head, remarked, "I wonder who owned that dog?"—Harper's Magazine.

"Some of the most perfect faces I have seen," he said, "possessed this quality of hardness, in a marked degree. They reminded me, indeed, of the girl to whom a sailor said: 'Miss Vincent—Anabelle—let me prove my love not by words only, but by deeds.'"

"Well, George," said the young girl calmly, "after you bring the deeds with you?"—Detroit Free Press.

Where It Was Signed.

The morning class had been duly instructed and enlightened upon the subject of our national independence. Feeling sure she had made a real and lasting impression with her explanations and blackboard illustrations, the young teacher began with the usual round of questions.

"Now, Sammy Smith, where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"

Real Trouble.

The college professor who says that children are merely little imitators and possess no imagination should become acquainted with our little friends, Charles and John. One day John, aged three, came running to his mother in deep distress. Upon inquiry the mother learned the cause of his tears.

Approved. "I see," said the second story man as he glanced over the paper, "that there's a society in New York for the suppression of unnecessary noises."

"And a good thing, too," said his pal. "They'll only get after them that boogie around. They never alarmed a boogie yet!"—New York American.

Had Her Instructions. Mrs. Subbuss (to neighbor's child): "Oh, there if the dozen fresh eggs I asked your mother to send for me. How many are they, Mary?"

The Child—Please'm, it's 90 cents. But mother says if you grumble it's 35.—Boston Transcript.

Attractive.

"Why won't you stage my play, 'How to Keep a Servant'?"

"That's a touch of a play," Kneel on the name's enough. Every woman would go if only to see how the problem is solved."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Keep Off the Grass.

"What does that sign say?"

"Keep off the grass." "You bet, haven't they?" "You bet. They haven't let a blade grow."—Harvard Lampoon.

Cookery Points

Honey and Junket.

Honey Gingerbread.—Put into a basin a cupful of honey and half a cupful of butter and melt. Add a pinch of salt and a half a teaspoonful of each of ginger and cinnamon. Mix well together till thick. Pour into a greased square tin and bake sharply. Honey Trifle.—Heat together half a cupful of milk and half a cupful of sugar. Cut into cubes two sponge cakes and dip into the mixture; then pile into a dish. Make a custard with two eggs, half a pint of milk and a cupful of honey. Pour the custard over the cakes, decorate with preserved fruit as preferred and serve either hot or cold.

Honey Mousse.—Beat separately the yolks of two eggs and mix with a cupful of honey. Beat until very stiff and add the mixture is thick. Do not beat. Let it cool; then stir in the whipped whites of two eggs. Add half a pint of milk and mix carefully. Put into a mold and set on ice to freeze.

Honey Fudge.—Beat together a cupful each of sugar and milk and add a cupful of honey. Heat until it thickens and add a cupful of honey and beat until the mixture can be tested as before. Add a cupful of milk and a cupful of honey. Beat until the mixture can be tested as before. Add a cupful of milk and a cupful of honey. Beat until the mixture can be tested as before.

Quits a variety of appetizing, yet most nourishing dishes can be evolved with the aid of junket tablets.

Chocolate Junket.—Dissolve half a cupful of junket in a cupful of milk. Melt two squares of chocolate, add half a cupful of warm milk and bring to the boil. Remove from the fire immediately and add remainder of the milk, quarter teaspoonful of vanilla and one dissolved junket tablet. Stir well and pour into small fancy cups to cool. Next take half a cupful of cream, add a few spoonfuls of sweetened milk and beat till quite stiff. Beat the white of one egg till it is stiff and add slowly to the beaten cream. Pour the cream mixture over the junket just before serving and decorate with crystallized cherries.

Chocolate Coffee Flavour.—Pour half a pint of boiling water over two ounces of coffee. Take a quart of milk sweetened to taste; add cream and junket. Add one junket tablet, stir well and pour into a glass dish. Serve with whipped cream and chocolate sauce.

Creams and Junket.—Sometimes a little junket is left over and is usually wasted. Here is a use for it. In a marked degree from which the whey has been poured, one cupful of cream, two yolks of eggs and one cupful of milk. Place all in a saucepan on the fire and stir till thick; then pour into a buttered pie dish and bake slowly for ten minutes.

Fruit Sandwiches.

Fruit sandwiches are more generally used than they used to be and are so delicious that they ought to form a part of every sandwich repast. They are made thus: Cut slices of bread, make them into many layers and fill with jam, marmalade, fruit, etc.

Onions and Sandwiches.—Make the foundation by stoning the onions and placing them in a saucepan with the meat chop and a little water. Cook till the juice of an orange and the pulp that squeezes out with it. Place in a bowl and add a little buttered bread.

To a half cupful of dates add a quarter cupful of chopped English walnut meats and a teaspoonful of butter. Mix and spread between buttered bread.

Short Cuts.

A quick way to warm plates in cold weather is to dip them in hot water. Dry in a dish rack or with a towel. Invert the handles of knives, forks and spoons in a pitcher of hot water to warm them.

When covers lose the original knob replace them with others that can be bought for 10 cents per dozen at a novelty store.

The flavor of fish is greatly improved if fried in fat saved from a former frying.

Quince Souffle.

Stew three or four quinces soft. Rub through a colander and sweeten. Pour into a glass dish and cover with a custard made with one cup of milk, three eggs, yolks and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Whip the whites of eggs light with three tablespoonfuls of sugar and heap on top.

Coffee Cake.

Take half a cupful of butter, a cupful of sugar, two eggs, add a cupful of milk and a cupful of coffee. Add two cupfuls of flour, half a teaspoonful of each of soda, a quarter of a teaspoonful of each of cloves and nutmeg and one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Bake in a loaf pan.

Olives and Egg Sandwiches.

Stone and chop twelve large olives and four finely chopped hard-boiled eggs and enough melted butter to make a paste. Season with pepper and salt, spread on thin slices of bread from which the crust has been removed and press firmly together. Bake in a loaf pan.

OF CREPE DE CHINE AND BROCADE.

Blue crepe de chine makes this very pretty gown, combined with blue broad silk patterned with a blurry design in American flower shades of blue. The crepe note of the costume is to be found in the long mousseline sleeves of the broadened silk. Touches of the manie silk are introduced in a panel at the side of the skirt. The mousseline collar and surplice fichu are of cream colored net.

HEADACHE CURE.

Common Sense Living and Right Thinking Remedy For Most Ills.

There are two attitudes of the housewife to a headache. She makes it a disease, or she makes it a nuisance. If she makes it a disease, she will be found in her house and general discomfort of her family, or she accepts it as an inevitable and runs her house with needless pain and discomfort to herself.

There may be an occasional woman who would be a martyr to headache. The majority will find the cure in common sense living and right thinking. "Another of my awful headaches" and get your teeth for bearing with what philosophy you can. Far more to the point is to think: "Why should I have another?"

Most headaches can be cured by common sense living and ordinary care of the functions of the body. In treating a headache, first find out the cause.

If the housewife awakes with a headache each morning she may be short of ventilation in her room. Let no fear of draft or consideration of hangings or furniture lead her to sleep with closed windows. Nor should she think a window raised an inch or two meets fresh air needs.

Anemia causes headaches. If the blood is thin and the flow sluggish you are sure to be a martyr to your head. Plenty of exercise, especially in the open air, and a good blood tonic will soon work a cure. Women of sedentary life, who use their brains overmuch, are especially prone to this type of headache.

Overwork, overexertion and fretting are prolific causes of headache, especially with the nervous, high strung woman who takes too much out of herself, then generally takes the rest out of her family. Cure? System, punctuality, learning to let things slide, more rest and sleep and an acquired philosophy.

Heat and Too Restrictive.

Stockings and socks may have detachable heel and toe portions, which can be removed from the body of the sock or stocking and similar portions substituted for them when they become too worn to be repaired. These detachable portions are the same shape and for that reason are interchangeable for both heel and toe. The repair portions are knitted together in one piece, which makes them less liable to become mislaid or lost, as would be the case of a number of separate portions.

A Hidden Strain.

"Aunt Nancy from old Virginia says: 'There's not one o' us but what aint got a strain of pine woodsmen some-where in de bones, but so long as it's done kee' hidden an' we don't give it no chance to see daylight we kin sholy keep dat strain strong in bet we kin wir our blood, deed we kin!'"

Quick Mustard Plaster.

A trained nurse says that if one forgets the exact proportions for making a mustard plaster one can be quickly made by getting a thick slice of bread, dipping it in for just a second in hot water, then spreading with white of egg and sprinkling thickly with mustard. The egg will prevent blistering.

They May, Perhaps, in the Near Future Be Given in the Home.

A prediction may safely be made that in the near future provision will be made for moving pictures in the home. When a man decides to build a house to cost, say, $25,000 or more, the architect will plan the picture room, in which the family and their guests can enjoy a select program of latest productions. It may be in connection with a dancing room, or it can be accomplished in much less expensive way. A projecting machine suitable for the home will not be very costly, and the films will doubtless be delivered each week by companies organized for that special purpose. Travelers returning from abroad will find pictures of cities and scenes they have visited, and wonder how they can get to friends and relatives incidents of the places they have visited.

Another new industry which will soon come into existence is all the larger cities will be film photography. Children's birthdays, garden parties, weddings and other family occasions later days of years recall pleasant memories will thus be perpetuated by the film photographer. He will eventually be making a number of pictures of the most acceptable wedding pictures in days to come from parents' and friends' and their children will find amusement—Popular Mechanics.

STREET SUITS.

Whims and Freshnesses Unwritten For Day Dress.

There seems to be an unwritten law in dressmaking that no matter what eccentric and freakish effect may be the whim of fashion, it shall be expressed solely in costumes to be worn by day. The only unusual or freakish note in the walking skirt illustrated is to be found in the combination checked skirt with plain coat. This combination is durable.

DIED—At Bellevue, on Saturday, July 5th, Jeanie Martin, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson.

John Albert, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell, was christened in the local church on Sunday evening last.

The burglar alarm at the local bank aroused some of the residents by going off at midnight on Thursday. It was a false alarm.

William Boesley, brother of "Our Frank," arrived from England this week. The brothers had not seen each other for 25 years.

"Protestantism" was the subject at the local church service on Sunday night last, in recognition of the 12th of July celebration this week.

The famous Bellevue band accompanied by a large host of Bellevue people, will attend the 12th of July celebration at Blairmore on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin attended the East Kootenay district summer school held on Moyie Lake, B. C. last week, where Mr. Irwin delivered his course of lectures on "Social Reform."

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hutton at 4 o'clock on Saturday, July 5th, when their second daughter, Annie, was united in marriage to George Coupland of Burnie. Rev. W. H. Irwin officiated. At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple and their friends sat down to a very dainty meal, after which the party adjourned to see the Hillcrest-Bellevue football match at Hillcrest.

On their return home dancing and merry-making was the order until the break of the Sabbath, when Mr. and Mrs. Coupland left by auto for their new home at Burnie. Miss Annie M. Orr, of Fernie, came up to assist the bride, while Isaac Hutton, brother of the bride, assisted the groom.

A large number of Bellevue sports were treated to the game of their lives on Saturday at Hillcrest, when the aggregations from the sister camps met for deadly combat. The exchange of goal keepers was a unique feature and the battle raged with unusual vigor. Fisher seemed out for revenge against the local team and almost succeeded in shutting Bellevue out without a score. Even his enemies are forced to admit that his work was marvellous, Bellevue's only score being off a close shot from Parker a few minutes before the final whistle. Patton, who wore the Bellevue colors for the first time, was no disappointment and will make good with Bellevue. The final score was 2 to 1 in favor of Hillcrest.

THE BEST MEDICINE IN THE WORLD

West Canadian Start Developing North Side

The West Canadian Collieries are opening up two or three coal seams on the property north of the town, which for width of seams and quality of the coal surpasses anything yet struck in this neighborhood. For several years this coal property has been held over while the company's developments were confined to their south side property. We now understand that they have decided to push the development of the new seams and are long a large number of additional men and additional appliances will be commissioned to unearth this vast new coal field.

The Blairmore senior baseball team defeated Hillcrest on Wednesday night to the tune of 3 to 2.

The case of the Town versus Bradley came up for hearing last week end and was adjourned. The case will be resumed today, L. H. Putnam for Bradley, H. C. Moore representing the town. The former stepped at the corral near the livery stable, while the latter after circling through the town was captured near the West Canadian mine. Considerable damage resulted to the wagons.

Superintendent Hershaw, of the Macleod-Cranbrook division of the C.P.R., passed west on Tuesday. The superintendent was interviewed by councillor Beebe with reference to the narrow crossing near the depot, and was assured that steps would be taken immediately to have the cattle guards removed so far back as to permit passengers from trains reaching the street without having to cross over them.

A fish story that's hard to beat: "Manager King, of the Alberta Hotel, went fishing the early part of the week. From a pool containing two gallons of creek water and covering an area of a cubic foot, he landed a fish measuring two feet from nose to tip of tail, five and a half inches in circumference, weighing two pounds and making a meal for one Blairmore lawyer."

Guess he's a king-fisher! One of the big scenes in Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which will hold forth at the Blairmore opera house tonight is the Swaine River by moonlight. By the aid of lately invented mechanical and electrical devices, actual scenes for miles along the stream, made famous in song and story, are unfolded to the eye in all their mid-summer beauty. The setting is said to be one of the most beautiful and realistic stage pictures ever produced.

There has been much comment of late over the splendid condition of the road to the North Fork country, and we understand that a big portion of the credit for the condition of the highway is due to Stewart McDonald, a well-known resident of that part of the country. Stewart is one of those worthies who realizes the futility of waiting upon government grants and who is not afraid to better his own interests as well as those of his neighbor's by throwing off his coat and occupying his spare moments in the betterment of the public thoroughfare.

J. E. Woods was up from Pincher Creek this week.

Tomorrow will be a gala day for the disciples of King William, and Blairmore will shine with her colors brighter, and better than ever before. A large number of people from the prairie will arrive by tonight's "local," most of whom intend remaining over till Sunday night. By the Saturday morning train it is expected that upwards of one thousand holiday-makers will land in the Metropolis and the way they will be received and treated will not belong any cheap or selfish lines.
